To Reach Quota.

Announcement today by Mrs. John Vesey, in charge of the annual Red Cross roll call at the Hope county, of adoption of workers to aid her in reaching the county's quota, shows that with the solitary exception of DeAnn every community in the county is represented. From each other section comes reports that community workers are ready to carry on, with assurances that each community intends reaching its quota of members. Gale Rages Along Britain's Coast

Wind Attains Velocity of 90 Miles In Occasional Gusts

LONDON, Nov. 12. (AP) Eight persons were killed in coastal accidents and thousands more were injured and enormous property damage inflicted in a gale which lashed the British Isles and surrounding seas last night and today.

The wind blew at a speed varying from 50 to 60 miles per hour with occasional gusts reaching a velocity of 90 miles per hour. The gale was reported to be the worst since the 1917-18 season, when it was reported that the wind was blowing at a speed of 100 miles per hour.

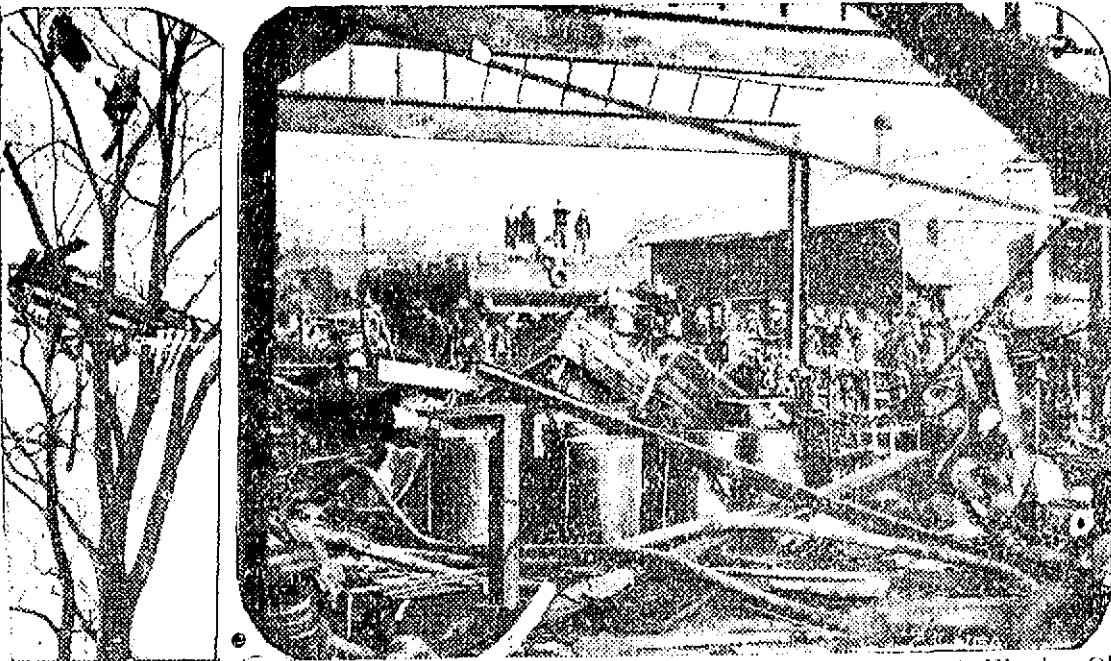

Market Plunges Downward Again

American Express Drops
$106 On First Appearance
Since January

NEW YORK, Nov. 12. (AP) Prices of many leaders rose for the first time today for the year in the stock exchange today when early buying raised many securities. Many stocks were down to close at one to twenty dollars per share from their opening price. American Express, making its first appearance since January 1, dropped $106 per share, below the previous low of $285.

The decline in stock prices was felt in the commodity markets also, there being heavy speculative selling. Cotton went down a dollar a bale to a new low, and wheat prices broke four cents per bushel in the Chicago market.

Where Gas Explosion Killed Five

Here is what remained of the plant of the Timms Spring Company, at Elyria, Ohio, after the building had been wrecked by a gas explosion and five persons were killed and a number of others seriously injured. The explosion, heard for miles, rocked the city and broke windows for a great distance. The smaller picture shows some of the machinery that was hurled into a tree top some distance from the plant.

Largest, Smallest Planes Coming In

Ford Tri-Motor and Mon-coupe Two of Fleet
Here Friday

When Kenyon's fleet of airplanes arrive here Friday morning next, Hope people will have opportunity to see the largest plane ever coming to earth at the local field. And also they will have a chance to look over one of the smallest in air service these days.

The larger plane is a Ford tri-motor ship, cabin type, carrying 16 passengers. The smaller is a monoplane and it is the one pilot does things in when he gets up in the air.

If you choose a thrill or a series of thrills, just buy a ride and ask the pilot to give you all he has in the store. You'll get it—and then some!

The fleet will be the largest number of planes ever using the local field at one time and Mr. Kenyon, who looked over the airport carefully, says it is of ample size to accommodate his fleet and is in excellent condition.

HELENA, Nov. 12. (AP) Wm. Mousico, young bank clerk for whom a search was instituted after he had failed to return home from a duck hunt last night, was found today by a searching party led by his father, E. E. Mousico.

After he had become lost in the woods at the mouth of the St. Francis river, the youth, who was hunting alone, found his way to the north bank of the river, built a fire and waited for help.

Tennis Graze Hits Sausage Industry

LONDON, Nov. 12. (AP) Enthusiasm for tennis is crippling the British sausage-skin trade.

The demand for tennis rackets, complain the makers of casings for sausages is so great that the racket manufacturers are almost monopolizing the catgut market. Since tennis fans are willing to pay well for rackets, the racket makers can pay well for the fresh skins of sheep from which racket strings and sausage casings are made.

That leaves the British sausage-skin migrants are in the cold, for they have to compete with continental manufacturers who buy their catgut in a market relatively unaffected by the tennis craze.

Methodists Meet Prescott Nov. 20

Annual Session of Little Rock Conference In Nevada County.

PRESOTT, Nov. 12. (AP) The 76th session of the Little Rock annual conference of the Southern Methodist Church will convene on Nov. 20 in the new Methodist church at Prescott, one of the strongholds of Southern Methodism, having a membership of approximately 500.

Bishop H. A. Boaz, of Little Rock, will preside over the conference. Charles J. Greene, dean of Hendrix-Henderson College, is secretary and has served in that capacity for 5 years.

Officials To Be on Hand
C. E. Hayes of Little Rock is treasurer; the Rev. J. Frank Simmons is missionary secretary; the Rev. Clem Baker, of Little Rock, conference superintendent of Sunday schools; G. W. Purdie, Little Rock, conference leader; Dr. A. C. Miller of Little Rock, editor of Arkansas Methodist; the Rev. D. H. Colquhoun, agent American Bible Society; the Rev. S. T. Baugh, superintendent rural Sunday school work; the Rev. J. C. Glynn, of Monticello, conference director of superannuated fund.

Among the appointments of the conference to posts outside of the conference are M. T. Workman, professor of religious education, Vanderbilt University, Nashville, Tenn.; R. C. Rhodes, professor Emory University, Atlanta, Ga.

Of paramount importance during the approaching session will be the election of delegates to the approaching quadrennial general conference at Dallas, Tex., May 1932. The newsworthy of Little Rock delegation is a matter of interested consideration, since this conference is entitled to 14 seats in the body, four lay and four clerical, who will have a vote and vote in the enactment of legislation and election of bishops and other connections of the church.

Pastors To Be Assigned
Next in interest and importance, the assignment of pastors for the ensuing church year claims the attention of Methodists of this section. As to appointments, it is proverbial among Methodists that until the assignments are read no one knows where the bishop and his cabinet of presiding elders have located the ministers. Interest naturally centers around the presiding elders and pastors who have served four years or longer at the same place. Indications are that the Little Rock conference will witness few changes at its 1929

Circuit Court Is Convened Again

Judge Arnold Calls Session To Order at Washington.

Hempstead circuit court reconvened at Washington this morning after the week-end and Armistice day recess. Court has been in session intermittently for more than a month, and many cases still remain to be tried, it is reported. Officials returned to the grand this morning when Special Judge W. H. Arnold called the session to order again in the circuit court room, the second of yesterday's lively meeting of the Quorum court.

The chief criminal case in circuit court last week was the conviction of Lawrence Clark on charges of burglary and grand larceny, and his sentence to a total of four years in the penitentiary.

Dry Raid Killer Makes Bitter Talk

Says Hopes Witnesses To Find Selves In His Predicament

CHAMBERLAIN, Okla., Nov. 12. (AP) Jeff Harris, deputized federal dry rider, sentenced to 50 years in the state penitentiary today by District Judge Hal Johnson for the murder of Oscar Lowery, Pottawatomie county farmer, in a liquor raid.

No liquor was found on the premises which were being searched when the killing occurred.

Harris was convicted here two weeks ago by a jury in district court in a bitter statement to the court he said he could never forgive the witnesses who testified that he shot Lowery without provocation, and said that he hoped they would some day find themselves in his predicament before confronting him, Judge Johnson overruled a motion for a new trial.

Harris was also charged with murder of James Harris, Lowery's brother-in-law, both killed during a liquor raid on July 4 on Harris' farm, near Tempe, Oklahoma.

W. W. "Snicker" Thompson, federal prohibition enforcement officer, who led the fatal raid, faces trial in federal court on a trial of killing Harris. The court refused to take jurisdiction of the Jeff Harris case.

To Ship Turkeys To Hot Springs

First Dressed Shipment
Will Leave County
November 22

What is believed to be the first large shipment of dressed turkeys will leave Hope November 22 when Jimmy Muldrow, of near Washington, send 25 prize fowls to Hotel Arlington at Hot Springs.

Mr. Muldrow's flock of 100 turkeys is one of the finest poultry demonstrations in the county, and the dressing of the birds for Hotel Arlington, which will be conducted at the Muldrow farm, will be made the occasion for a public exhibition of picking and dressing turkeys. The demonstration will be supervised by G. H. Knox, poultry specialist of the University of Arkansas, and many are expected to attend.

Trade Days Are Planned Here On November 22-23

Special Events To Be Offered Shoppers In Trade Territory

OTHER CITIES ACT

Hope Will Meet Competition Inside Her Shopping Area

A series of Trade Day events for the shoppers throughout the vast Hope trade territory is being planned by local merchants who expect to offset the trade day events now being conducted in Prescott, Gordon and Texarkana.

The local appeal for additional Trade is expected to take the form of a "Carnival of Values," the opening dates for which have been set on Friday and Saturday, November 22-23. This trade territory drive is the result of the effort of several of the city's leading merchants who believe that Hope stores offer more in style and value for the shoppers' money, and that the entire mercantile group can bring more trade here by giving the special days, adequate publicity throughout the territory.

If enough advertising can be secured, The Star plans to offer as its contribution to the success of the campaign an additional distribution of papers throughout the five-county territory surrounding Hope. For every paper going to a non-subscriber it will pay postage at the rate of 12 cents per pound.

Hope's tremendous trade territory is shown in the postoffice figures on the number of boxes along the rural routes within a radius of 25 miles of the city. These figures reveal that there are 10,000 families in this concentrated territory, whose business should naturally come to Hope, providing Hope merchants go after it.

Will Import Lime By the Trainload

Several Cars Are Already Pledged For Big Fertilizer Train

Plans for the importing of a solid trainload of lime to be used to fertilize Hempstead county farms, were launched today by County Agent Lynn Smith.

He met Roy Anderson, Ralph Rountree and other members of the agricultural committee of Hope Chamber of Commerce at the city hall this morning and reported from three to four carloads of lime already ordered.

The actual shipment of the trainload will be considered at two rallies to be held in the county next week. Farmers in this section of the county will be invited to Hope city hall at 12 o'clock next Monday afternoon, and at 7 o'clock next Tuesday night. November 19, a similar meeting will be held at the Blevins school.

John Milton, of the Arkansas Lime Products company, E. A. Hudson, agricultural agent for the Missouri Pacific and George W. Ware, of the State Experimental Farm, will be among the speakers at both meetings.

Senate Wrangles Over Tariff On Shingles

WASHINGTON, Nov. 12. (AP) The senate today began its long-headed contest over a shingle tariff, with only a group of northwestern senators favoring transfer of this article from the free list in the face of a majority of democrats and republicans opposed to any duty.

Armistice Day Brings Happiness To Woman

PAYETTEVILLE, Nov. 12. (AP) Armistice Day brought happiness to Mrs. W. L. Gillespie, of Blevins, as she had not known since the war ended. It brought a letter from her son, W. L. Gillespie, whom she had long ago given up for dead.

Gillespie had enlisted in 1918, soon after America entered the war. He was stationed at an ammunition plant and never got overseas during the titanic struggle.

After the armistice, he resolved to go to France, but he didn't tell his mother. At Paris he joined up with the French Foreign Legion and went to Africa. He never communicated with his relatives. Last week he came back to America.

Last night a special delivery letter from him reached his mother. He told her he was on his way home and would see her soon.

McManus Trial Is Postponed To 18th

Accused of Murder of Rothstein, Case Goes
Over Until Monday

NEW YORK, Nov. 2. (AP) The trial of George McManus for the murder of his gambler associate, Arnold Rothstein, was adjourned today to November 18 because of the serious illness of an important state witness.

The witness, Alvin Thompson, better known as "Titanic," is alleged to have been one of the men who was with McManus and Rothstein when they played cards a few days before the shooting in which game Rothstein is said to have lost heavily to McManus.

One juror was sworn in on motion of defense counsel, Judge Nott then announced the adjournment to 10:30 a. m., Monday.

Cattle Dipping Cases Coming Up

Federal Judge Cleans Away Number of Cases
On Opening Day.

TEXARKANA, Nov. 12. (AP) L. Nothman and J. H. Ramsey, "anti-dipping" farmers, of Nashville, and Doddridge, Miller county, apparently will go to jail in Arkansas federal court late this week on information filed by the United States district attorney, regardless of grand jury action.

They were not named in some half dozen indictments reported at the initial session of the grand jury, but both entered pleas of not guilty to interfere with tick eradication officers as charged in the information.

Neither had an attorney, and both were instructed to prepare themselves for trial by Thursday, when petit jury work begins. It was not certain, however, what day they would be tried.

"I'm already under a peace bond on the same charge," said Ramsey when he was arraigned before Judge Frank Youmans. The court replied that he didn't know anything about that.

Both are under peace bond as a result of alleged altercations with federal officials, Nothman with A. W. Rice, district supervisor, and Ramsey with O. J. Ball, a range rider. The first indictment occurred in Nashville early in June, and the second near Doddridge, July 21. Nothman has indicated he considered himself a "martyr" against the tick dipping movement. He made a number of speeches against it at meetings in local county which preceded a three-day strike during which a number of dipping vats were dynamited, and culminated in a compulsory dipping drive in July when his difficulty with Rice is alleged to have occurred.

Criminal Docket Heavy
Faced by one of its heaviest criminal dockets, the court waded through a batch of old cases while the grand jury was in session, accepting pleas of guilty in some, and setting others for trial.

Unpopularity of attorneys of the United States Veterans Bureau to try some mine was risk insurance cases pending will necessitate continuance of all of them for the term, it was announced. Various demurrers and motion filed by the government will be heard here, however, on December 30.

Walk Out Occurs In Row On Agents

"Miss Georgia"

County Judge Is
Defied and Bills
Go Over 2 Weeks

Quorum Court Votes 14 to 4 To Suspend All Activities.

MEET AGAIN NOV. 25

John L. Wilson Is Storm
Center In Washington
Courtroom.

A county judge who refused to pay salaries due the farm and home demonstration agents, was met by a Quorum Court which refused to vote any further appropriations for anything, at the annual levying session in Washington yesterday.

In a sensational session unrivaled in recent Hempstead county history, the Quorum Court talked back to the judge, criticized him for refusing to follow the court's instructions of the preceding year, and closed with the ultimatum: "Either we'll have the county agents in 1930 or not."

The issue was brought to a head shortly after the court reconvened at 1 o'clock for the afternoon session, when one of the members presented a resolution saying it was the will of the justices that no appropriations of any kind be made until the county judge bound himself to continue the work of the county agents.

The judge's reply: Judge John L. Wilson replied: "If the purpose of this move is to bluff me into an action which I do not approve, then I can tell you that you are on the wrong track."

"If the Quorum Court won't do its sworn duty, if it leaves the criminal and civil courts, the sheriff and the whole administration of the county, to shrivel up for lack of the customary tax money, then the responsibility is clearly upon the Quorum Court—and it is all right with me."

The word "duty" started an argument, members of the court contending that if the Arkansas Supreme Court had ruled November 4 that a county judge didn't have to pay the appropriations as ordered by the Quorum Court, they why have a Quorum Court? Judge Wilson replied, "Why ask me? All that I know is that it is to my certain knowledge the law."

Nearly an hour of debate occurred before Judge Wilson finally called for a vote on the resolution, which was to deadlock the session. The result was 13 to 4, against him.

Adjourns to November 25.
A second resolution was then offered, calling for an adjournment until November 25, in the hope that "we can think it over by that time." Judge Wilson strenuously opposed this move declaring, "Two weeks won't change anything. Whatever can be done then can be done now."

While this vote was pending and a few late-comers were filling in the ranks of the justices, the judge suggested that the usual taxes including the five-mill county tax and the various school taxes, be voted at once, leaving the matter of appropriations to wait on the adjourned session two weeks later. "A two weeks delay" in the tax collections will work a serious hardship on the county," he said.

At this point the first speaker outside the court took the floor, E. F. McFadden of Hope, president of the Rotary club and spokesman for the various civic groups and individual business men who came to the rescue of the county agents last spring when Judge Wilson cut them off of the county's pay roll.

McFadden spoke against the judge and urged the Quorum Court to leave the situation "unhampered" until the adjourned meeting November 25. "Judge Wilson has contended all along that we haven't enough money to support the county agents," he said. "But this is a rich county, far richer than some that support county agents most handsomely. Forty-five thousand dollars went through this county government in the current year. Do you mean to say that out of all that money it was impossible to find the $2,700 required to pay the salaries of these two agents?"

"We want a two weeks' delay for the purpose of studying the methods used by other counties. We want to see how they do it, and perhaps from a comparison of their expenditures with ours we may be able to find a way to pay the county agents out of Hempstead's revenue."

Death Again Draws Attention To Cult of "Spiritual Brides"

Thirty-three women and two men followed the coffin. Douglas Hamilton, present ruler of the "Abode of Love," read a few prayers at the graveside, the women shed tears and scattered flowers, and the dwindling band of Agapeonites returned home.

Spiritualization of the matrimonial state was the avowed object of the sect when the Rev. Henry James Prince founded it in 1815, and ever since the "spiritual brides" of the colony have been a potential source of disagreement with the outside world. Prince styled himself "messiah" and sent a proclamation to all countries notifying mankind that "Flesh is saved from death."

At one time he had 600 followers. Well-to-do women were the chief contributors.
When Prince died, 1899, there was a great falling off of those who had accepted literally his assumption of immortality. His mantle was seized by the Rev. John Hugh Smith Piggott, who had great magnetism and attracted new women devotees to the colony. His taking of "spiritual brides" and his encouragement of the custom aroused great indignation.

Once a mob got past the walls and tried to tar and feather the prophet. The mob was in such a hurry it tarred and feathered the wrong man. Smyth-Piggott died two years ago and was succeeded by Hamilton. Hamilton and one other man are the

Youthful Pitcher Goes Up To Majors

FREMONT, Neb., Nov. 12.—(AP)—Though he has played in but one "real" ball game, 9-year-old Ralph Peters, of Fremont, is to have his big chance in major league circles next spring.

The youngster's skill came to light last summer when he pitched a 5-hit game against a team composed of Western leaguers.

A scout for the St. Louis Cardinals saw the game and signed the youngster for a tryout.

The Avenging Parrot

THIS HAS HAPPENED
Mrs. Emma Hogarth is strangled to death in her room on the second floor of Mrs. Rhodes' boarding house, where she was confined because of heart trouble. Reputed miser she had her will frequently changed to name a new favorite among the boarders.

Bonnie Dundee, young detective, assists his chief, Lieut. Strawn, in the investigation. Strawn immediately suspects a former boarder, Emil Sevier, who, he learns, left town that night on the one o'clock train. A doctor next door reports having seen a man running down the alley about 12:10.

Dundee, stationed behind a screen, takes notes as Strawn quizzes the boarders. Henry Dowd, newcomer, out of work, insists he was in his room all evening and heard nothing but the squawking of Cap'n. Mrs. Hogarth's parrot, Cora Barker, theater pianist, is next given a merciless third degree. She tells of her date with another boarder, Bert Magnus, amateur scenario writer, of how he failed to appear and her return to the house to hear him typing at 12:10. She explains her bandaged hand by saying it is an electric iron burn. When Strawn demands to know why Mrs. Hogarth cut her out of her will she evades answering. She admits that Sevier made love to her but denies any knowledge of his part in the crime.

Mr. and Mrs. Sharp are brought in next. Mrs. Sharp is dressed to catch her acquaintance," Magnus answered. "I was to do so tomorrow, or rather today, since it is already Sunday now. She had invited me to call on her, possibly because I had expressed a desire to meet her. Mr. Dundee, the new boarder, dropped in to my room last evening as I told you to give me the message. I was about to pay my call immediately after Mr. Dundee left, but saw Miss Paige and Mr. Styles at her door, and went on with my work."

"Do you know why she wanted so particularly to meet you?" Bert Magnus smiled deprecatingly.

Detective Green announced Mrs. Rhodes, and then, at a signal from Strawn, withdrew. The landlady spoke into vehement speech: "Excuse me for keeping you waiting, Mr. Strawn, but the Lord knows I've had my hands full! That Dusty! It was a sorry day for me when I married that—"

"You mean your husband has returned?" Strawn interrupted her sharply. "And how!" she confirmed grimly, the outmoded bit of slang setting oddly on her austere lips. "Dead drunk! Two of your men found him at a sneaky and were just lugging him down when you sent Mr. Green down for me. He's passed out cold—was dead to the world when they found him in that dive. Your men brought two of his low life pals along with him, and they're waiting downstairs now."

"With an airtight alibi for your husband, I suppose," Strawn finished his sentence wryly. "Alibi?" Mrs. Rhodes repeated. "Then she laughed—a sort of angry amusement. 'I hope you're not so hard-up for a suspect as to have picked on Dusty, Lieutenant Strawn! He hasn't nerve enough to drown an alley cat's litter of kittens!'"

They tell of seeing Walter Styles and his fiancée Norma Paige go to Mrs. Hogarth's door, of Mrs. Hogarth's anger with Styles, and later of Norma's suspicious disappearance from the second floor bath. Norma is brought in. She admits she was the latest headdress and that Mrs. Hogarth was angry at her because of her engagement to Styles. She admits also she went to Styles' room later to tell him of the interview. Styles corroborates Norma's story but admits he left his room after Norma's departure. When asked if he was angry at Mrs. Hogarth, he says, "Yes, I was." Magnus, insists he typed all evening until 12:15. Word is received that Sevier disappeared off the train. And of course I did not inquire as to its ownership." "That rainstorm—was it before or after Emil Sevier was evicted from the house?" Magnus frowned in concentration. "Let's see . . . The storm was Wednesday a week ago. I remember because Miss Shepherd, leaving for work as I did, remarked that it would ruin the Wednesday Sale Day at Mercantile-Crane's, where she works, in the Ladies' dress department. I am not positive, but I believe Mr. Sevier left that same day."

"Have you seen the cap since then?" "If I did, I failed to notice it." "By the way, Magnus, did you know Mrs. Hogarth personally?" Strawn asked abruptly. "No, I'm sorry to say I never made

Women Have Something to Say! AN ANCIENT PREJUDICE HAS BEEN REMOVED

AMERICAN INTELLIGENCE has ridiculed into oblivion that ancient prejudice which excluded women from a voice in council. Today, in millions of homes, the delicious flavor of LUCKY STRIKE fills the room as the family-group respects the opinion of its women folk.

"toasting did it"—

Gone is that ancient prejudice against cigarettes—Progress has been made. We removed the prejudice against cigarettes when we removed harmful corrosive ACRIDS (pungent irritants) from the tobaccos.

YEARS ago, when cigarettes were made without the aid of modern science, there originated that ancient prejudice against all cigarettes. That criticism is no longer justified. LUCKY STRIKE, the finest cigarette you ever smoked, made of the choicest tobacco, properly aged and skillfully blended—"It's Toasted."

"TOASTING," the most modern step in cigarette manufacture, removes from LUCKY STRIKE harmful irritants which are present in cigarettes manufactured in the old-fashioned way.

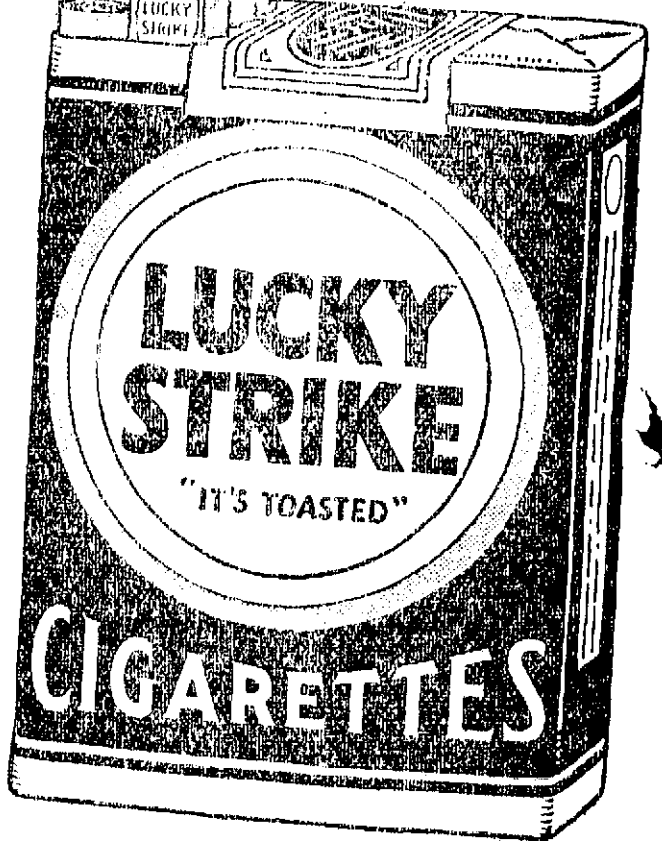

Everyone knows that heat purifies, and so "TOASTING"—LUCKY STRIKE'S extra secret process—removes harmful corrosive ACRIDS (pungent irritants) from LUCKIES which in the old-fashioned manufacture of cigarettes cause throat irritation and coughing. Thus "TOASTING" has destroyed that ancient prejudice against cigarette smoking by men and by women.

"It's Toasted"—the phrase that describes the extra "toasting" process applied in the manufacture of Lucky Strike Cigarettes. The finest tobaccos—the Cream of the Crop—are scientifically subjected to penetrating heat at minimum, 260°—maximum, 300°, Fahrenheit. The exact, expert regulation of such high temperatures removes impurities. More than a slogan, "It's Toasted" is recognized by millions as the most modern step in cigarette manufacture.

Wolves March On Toward Championship

Prescott Takes Bobcats To Drubbing In Armistice Tilt On Local Gridiron

"Red Johnson" Leading Wolf Pack, Almost Wins Game Single-Handed With Consistent, Heady Football—Races 90 Yards for Touchdown.

"Red" Johnson, captain of the Curley Wolves, was a host of football players in himself when, on Armistice day here he charged the Hope line at will, clinching the day with a 90-yard run from kick-off, through a broken field. It was a spectacular effort and as such was roundly cheered by the crowd of Hope and Prescott fans gathered to witness the struggle.

The Bobcats batted, but vainly. Outweighed, out-smarted and out-fought, they could do no more than fight, and that they did, a swirling, clanking pack who wouldn't be whipped until the fight was over.

Playing on a heavy field, Prescott High ploughed through the Hope High Bobcats yesterday afternoon on the local gridiron for a 40-0 victory. Captain Red Johnson was the star for the Curley Wolves, he being responsible for the most consistent gains.

The Bobcats received to start the game, and after three unsuccessful efforts to make first down, were forced to punt. Prescott started a march toward their goal line, but a fumble within the 15-yard line gave the ball to the Bobcats. Hope was held for downs and forced to punt. Prescott took the ball about the fifty-yard line and a series of line plays worked the ball down to the 20 yard line, where Aarant, Curley Wolfe fullback, with perfect interference, skirted right end for the remaining 12-2 yards and the first touchdown of the game. Prescott's try for extra point failed when Rogers' kick was wide. Prescott scored once more in the first quarter on end runs and line smashes. Johnson took Rogers' pass for the extra point. The second quarter found the Bobcats playing better football, with Reeves of Hope smashes the Curley Wolfe line for several first downs. Prescott then stiffened and held the Bobcats for downs. With the ball in Prescott's possession they worked it down the field on line plays and managed to score just before the whistle blew ending the half.

One of the features of the game was the beginning of the second half when Hope kicked off to the Wolves. Captain Red Johnson received the ball on his own ten yard line and dashed through the entire Hope team, shaking off tacklers like flies. Rogers failed to add extra point when his was low, the ball hitting the cross-bar and bounding backwards. Prescott scored again in the third quarter and once in the fourth to end a hard fought game.

Reaves, Taylor, Harrell, and Tinsley were the stars of the Bobcats, Tinsley showing up the best on defense. Next Friday, at Fair Park, the Cats will meet a strong aggregation from Gurdon. The game is expected to be hard fought, the "Go-Devs" coming to Hope to get revenge for their 12-2 defeat of last year.

to obtain, and while we are hunting for them we are taking on a few players who may have passed their peak, but who also can hit and give the club some power which will be very handy.

Dan Howley recommended Meusel and Heilmann. He should know what these fellows are capable of doing, as he served with them in the American League for the last three seasons.

The addition of Meusel and Heilmann gives Cincinnati Swanson, Walker, Allen, Webb, Heilmann, Meusel, Crabtree, Callaghan and a couple of others scrapping for outfield berths.

The Critz Report

As to reports that Jovial John McGraw was trying to get Hughey Critz from the Reds, Weil said:

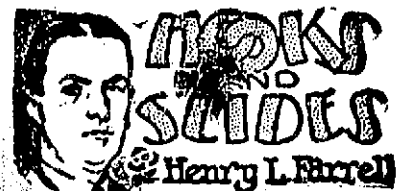

"My answer to any proposition for Critz would be that the Cincinnati management is attempting to build up its team, not tear it down. We might be persuaded to part with Critz, but I doubt if any club would give us what we consider adequate recompense for him."

Tulane-Georgia Tech game in which the Golden Tornado's tail was twisted by the New Orleans lads, Coach Bill said:

"Billy Banker is a great player—an All-American back if ever there was one."

These words about the Tulane captain and halfback sound sweeter coming from Bill because the Tornado coach has a few All-American potentialities himself in Mizell, Thomson and Dunlap.

With stars in the east such as Booth, Kelly, Marsters, Wittmer, and so on, the great backs in the south such as Gene McEver of Tennessee, Crabtree of Florida, the aforementioned backs and a couple of other, this All-Am-

The Light-Heavy Throne

The light-heavyweight title, left hanging on the wall by Mr. Longhran, has been causing a lot of people no end of worry, for pecuniary reasons. The other day the New York commission nominated four gladiators to fight it out for the championship—Maxey Rosenbloom, Yale Ogum, Louis Scozza and George Courtney.

Joe Sekyra says Rosenbloom should have it, as, if he (Sekyra) had defeated Maxey, he would have claimed the title all over the place and made earnest efforts to cash in on it.

Fighters don't often do that—we mean acknowledge their conquerors to be the champs. However, Joe adds that he thinks he could smear Maxey in another brawl.

Nothing remains to be written about Booth. He has everything.

Mrs. S. A. Lawhorne, of Pine Bluff, is in the city for a short stay, the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Lawhorne.

R. J. Pearce, manipulator of the Duplex press in this shop and rated as the best flat-bed operator in the southwest, is off the job this week, account of losing a decision to Old Man Maluria. "Bill" Etter, from up Washington way, one of Hope's popular high school grads last year, left this morning for Little Rock, after a day or so spent with home folks. "Bill" reformed from the newspaper game and went into banking but, honest, he don't look as happy and carefree now as he once did.

Hope football fans—several carloads of 'em—who drove over to El Dorado to see the Redbugs walk the log of the oil city crew by a score of 6-2, came back in last night, declaring without exception it was the greatest game Arkansas will see this year. Adjournment Voted

With that, Judge Wilson put the issue to a vote, and adjournment carried by 14 to 4.

Others besides Mr. McFaddin who were accorded the privilege of addressing the court, were H. M. Stephens, of Bleivins, and N. P. O'Neal, of Hope. Mr. Stephens called on several farmers then in the courtroom to tell of the aid and advice which the county agents had given them, and closed his remarks with a fervent appeal for the carrying-on of work on this educational work in agriculture.

"Hempstead county has 32,000 population," said Mr. O'Neal, and the county agents' work costs approximately ten cents per person. Furthermore, there are 12,000 boys and girls in the county, who will grow up to be good farmers or bad ones, in the degree to which we try to aid them. This is the most valuable side of the county agents' work, and makes it imperative that Hempstead carry the ment and court expenses, in 1930.

All reports were returned to Judge Quorum Court and Judge Wilson and the afternoon session. Committee face one another again.

The committee on hospitals recommended, and Judge Wilson approved, an allowance of $100 per month for the support of Julia Chester Hospital in Hope, which does considerable charity work for the county. The status of this as well as all govern-
